We plan to try it again when we have more time.

Autumn is upon us and we look forward to some exciting programs.

This month is "Women of Achievement" We will be honoring a candidate from Upper Cape -Beth Markus from Cape Cod Beer and our candidate from Lower Cape is Dorothy Savarese from Cape Cod Five Bank. Further information is in this cablegram.

We sincerely hope that all members will try to bring at least one quest to each meeting. We are committed to increasing our membership this year.

Our thanks also to Nan Watts for introducing us to a new restaurant - Van Rensselaer's was an excellent choice, not only for the menu but for the patio room which was so nice on the wonderful fall evening.

We would like each member to remember that October is Breast Cancer Month. It will be a time with many informative articles and activities usually highlighted by the pink ribbon. This is an important month to all women as we search for a cure.

Thanks to everyone for their support,
Pat and Roberta

History of National Business Women's Week®

The concept of National Business Women's Week® originated with Emma Dot Partridge, Executive Secretary of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs from 1924 to 1927. The first annual observance of NBWW was held April 15-22, 1928, when National President Lena Madestin Phillips opened the week with a nationally broadcast speech. She stated that the purpose of the week was "to focus public attention upon a better business woman for a better business world." From this early effort, NBWW has grown into a nationwide salute to all workingwomen.

The program for the first observance of NBWW included: Legislative Day devoted to national, state and local legislation of interest to women; Education Day devoted to emphasizing the need for equitable educational opportunities; Club Rally Day for prospective new members; Community Day honoring leaders in the community; and Goodwill Day devoted to working with other women's organizations.

In 1938, NBWW was moved to the third full week of October. U.S. President Herbert Hoover was the first president to issue a letter recognizing NBWW and the contributions and achievements of workingwomen.

The celebration of National Business Women's Week® has helped to promote leadership roles for women and to increase opportunities for their advancement professionally and personally.

Advertising for the upcoming year in the Lower Cape Cod BPW Cablegram is available for $60.00.

Payment for current advertisers and those that would like to become part of our advertising page – please send your payment to Patty Monahan, BPW Treasurer.

Recognition of Women of Achievement Coincides with National Women's Week Foundation

National Business Women's Week®

October 17 -21, 2011

To honor the contributions of working women and employers who support working women and their families, Business and Professional Women's Foundation celebrates National Business Women's Week® (NBWW) during the third week of October.

National Business Women's Week® provides an opportunity to call attention to women entrepreneurs, facilitate discussions on the needs of working women, share information about successful workplace policies, and raise awareness of the resources available for working women in their communities.

That is why our Cranberry District is honoring two local Women Of Achievement – to bring this focus on all working women in our community during National Business Women's Week. Please support this recognition of All Working Women and join BPW members here on Cape Cod – at the October 19th meeting in Hyannis at Alberto's.
